SpencerLAB APPOINTS AMANDA HACKER TO LABORATORY MANAGER

Melville, NY, 16 February 2018 — The spencerLAB DIGITAL COLOR LABORATORY is pleased to announce the appointment of Amanda Hacker as Laboratory Manager, effective immediately. In her new role Amanda will administer and oversee quantitative testing services, reporting, and foster spencerLAB's ongoing commitment to its clients.

Since joining spencerLAB, Amanda has demonstrated the ability to coordinate numerous concurrent projects of complicated scopes, and has resolutely worked to deliver the great service, quality, and integrity for which spencerLAB is known. With a background in digital production printing, Amanda brings real-world knowledge and experience to the testing environment.

“This assignment recognizes Amanda’s increasing responsibility in project coordination and management, and acknowledges her organizational and leadership abilities, along with her dedication to spencerLAB’s mission of independence, innovation, and integrity”, said Catherine Fiasconaro, VP, Operations and Laboratory Director. Amanda joined the Spencer Associates Group after working in production printing, having earned a Baccalaureate degree from St. John’s University, graduating Magna Cum Laude. Amanda’s broad knowledge of digital printing and finishing, along with editing, and graphic design has added to the spencerLAB’s expertise.
